Hi!

Welcome back—we're beyond thrilled that you're interested in joining us again at DubHacks this year!

We have some exciting and important updates for you. With our new team, we've decided to revamp the DubHacks mission statement to better embody our values. We are prioritizing our purpose of connecting students with opportunities to create meaningful and intentional technology solutions in all of our organization's decisions. This is reflected in our revitalized mission statement:

- We connect technology with humanity.
- We empower students to innovate within their communities.
- Together, we create solutions that are diverse, inclusive, and accessible.

DubHacks remains committed to cultivating a community that is inclusive to a breadth of diverse backgrounds and perspectives. Now more than ever, our priority is to empower our community to develop impactful and sustainable solutions that solve issues meaningful to them.

Everyone involved in DubHacks, especially our sponsors, is an invaluable contributor to our community. We believe your sponsorship will continue to uplift our community and we would be honored to work with you as a returning sponsor. Just like before, you will have the opportunity to:

- Connect with talented and motivated students from a breadth of backgrounds
- Mentor and inspire young hackers
- Showcase your API and/or products + see students leverage your products in their projects

We have also revised the sponsorship tiers to include an additional tier, based on feedback from previous sponsors, the growth we've experienced, and the new ideas we're looking to implement to better DubHacks for everyone involved. Please see the next page for more details.

As always, our team would love to work with you to build a custom package that coincides best with your organization's goals. As we prepare for DubHacks 2019, we hope you plan to join us once again in building an event centered around inclusion and collaboration. We look forward to hearing from you soon!

With Love,
The DubHacks Team
